Labor Group Will Continue To Battle Tax

able solution and no one has offered one.

"Last Monday at the Council meeting, E. L. Wheatley, president of the IBOP, took the floor in protest to the tax. Although he said he spoke as an individual, anyone with his title can't speak for himself alone. He said he had no alternative plan and he said he knew nothing about the finances of the city.

"When he took over the presidency of the potters' union and moved here from the east, he said the city hadn't moved ahead in the years in which he was away, in fact he said it had gone backward. Shortly afterward, he was made a member of the City Planning Commission, but from the information I have received he rarely attends the meetings.

"He said the tax would put an awful dent in the earnings of the workers. I wonder if he was concerned about that when he spent two or three hundred thousand to build that new headquarters out on the highway. If you attend your regular local meetings out there, you will spend more for gasoline than the city tax will cost you. I don't think he's interested in the city of East Liverpool. He's getting out of it as fast as he can."

Later a Trades Council member told Edwards the IBOP international convention in Montreal approved construction of the new headquarters, adding that Wheatley did not have a vote on the question.

Councilman Norman Bucher commented that he feels an income tax is equitable "because everyone pays according to ability." He said 46 Ohio cities of over 10,000 population now collect such a tax.

"I can't bring myself to cut back the city services," he said. "It's our problem and your problem. We feel we can't ignore it. I can understand your feelings. You have a right to voice your opinion. But don't make a hasty judgment. Think it over. We'll do our best to see the money is administered properly. The councilmen are people like you — we have potters and steelworkers and a barber and a bartender."

When the meeting was opened up to questions, Glenn Ramsey, president of the Steelworkers Local at the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co., commented: "Seventy-five per cent of the people work outside the city and a great number live in rented homes. All they have to do is move outside the city to avoid the tax. What will happen to property valuations in East Liverpool?"

Then there was a long discussion of the reciprocity between two communities such as Midland and East Liverpool if each has an income tax. The point was not settled definitely, although the councilmen said they believe two such communities could work out a reciprocal agreement covering persons who live in one city and work in another.

Vincent Laneve asked what assurance citizens have the Council won't attempt to raise the tax rate later. Councilman Donald Hancock conceded such a move is possible because "we can amend any ordinance on the books" but he said he feels any such action would be highly unlikely.

"If the police cruisers are worn out, maybe you need reliable men to operate them," Laneve said. "After all, this equipment didn't deteriorate overnight."

Without naming names, he said he knew of an occasion on which a former mayor's car was repaired in the city street department garage at the city's expense.

Laneve also asked why the tax is levied on gross earnings instead of take-home pay.

Hancock replied all Ohio cities use the same method, principally to simplify book-keeping.

There was a shouting, gavel-slapping argument between Robinson and Frank Duffy, a former president, when Duffy used the word "liars" in referring to the City Council. Robinson declared Duffy out of order, but after several shouted exchanges Duffy kept the floor.

Duffy repeated a charge that a Council voted for the tax a fourth time a few weeks after it had been turned down at the polls by the people. He also referred to salary increases of "over 100 per cent" which the former Council gave the mayor's office and an increase "of 50 per cent" which was given the Council.

"But the poor devils on the street department only got 10 per cent," he said.

Later, Duffy charged that the city has a lot of "deadwood" on its payroll. Instead of keeping a Meter Maid in a City Hall office to collect fines, that task should be performed by the auditor's office, he said.

The solicitor's job is part-time, but he has an assistant," Duffy said. "How much deadwood do you have there, including the city water works office?"

Jerry Cartwright, another delegate, said he feels Council should have used "salesmanship or friendly persuasion" to convince the public of the need for more city income.

"I don't question that the city is in dire need of funds," he said. "What I question is the way it was handled. Can you honestly say this was laid in front of the people to give them a clear picture?"

"There's a certain element that will do anything to avoid paying taxes," Cartwright added. "But I feel there's another element that would have voted it in if it had been properly explained."

Councilman Robert Laughlin asked Melvin, as finance chairman, to tell the group how many city employees will be laid off if the city fails to receive new revenue.

Melvin replied 35 to 40 will be laid off, including firemen, police, school crossing guards and street department workers.

Ramsey related that he paid special assessments for paving and sewerage of Globe St., where he has lived 35 years, but he added:

"One of the first things that comes up in connection with the income tax is resurfacing of St. Clair Ave. Some of the richest people in town live on the stretch from the Riverview Cemetery entrance to the city limits. Why should I dig down to pay for street resurfacing for R. L. Cawood and others?"

The discussion went off on several tangents, including parking meter operations and policing and sewage service charges. The councilmen replied they have no control over the sewer or water departments and that the revenues from the two utilities cannot be used for general city operations.

Eugene Mellott, another member of the Patterson local, asked how much additional real estate tax the city would have to collect to bring in the same amount the income tax would produce.

Melvin replied an additional 5 mills would be required to produce $200,000, as one mill on real estate brings in about $40,000. Mellott responded a property tax would be cheaper for him, as it would cost him only $25, compared with $50 he would pay under an income tax.

Councilman John Kelly replied his real estate tax went from $60 to $75 a half year because of the new 4-mill school tax. An additional 5 mills would boost his taxes another $38 annually, equivalent to the income tax on $8,000, he said.

Imposition of an income tax may make the voters antagonistic toward city levies when they come up for renewal, including the garbage levy, James Moss commented.

He called an income tax "a vicious thing that grows like a snowball" and pointed out such levies are being considered by the states of Ohio and West Virginia.

The discussion closed shortly afterward without arriving at any conclusion.

Beneath The Tumult And Shouting

President Eisenhower is doing gracefully and with his copyrighted brand of good will all the things required of him in his last days in the White House. But some of his countrymen will remember the grim passage in his final address to the country long after they have forgotten the pleasantries.

It was a warning against a danger not generally understood. Some listeners must have been puzzled by it. It was as far from the routine platitudes common at leavetakings and formal farewells as anything could be. But there it was—a blunt truth beneath the tumult and shouting of Inauguration Week.

The United States must fight a foe at home as well as abroad, warned Mr. Eisenhower. It must fight the growing power of a scientific-technological elite that will try to dominate public policy. Members of the elite will tend to be the top dogs in education. Colleges and universities will be hog-tied by government contracts for research and development. Education as a whole may be neglected.

At the same time, the nation's economy will be in danger of domination by the armament industry that has been developed to offset the Soviet Union's aggressive policy of meddling in the affairs of unguarded nations.

THE MILITARY-INDUSTRIAL complex whose spending exceeds the net income of all U.S. corporations, the retiring President warned, must be kept in its proper place by an alert and well-informed citizenry. Otherwise, the United States may lose its liberty in the attempt to save it by counter-balancing the military strength of the Soviet Union and its allies.

These are grave doubts to be left on the White House doorstep by a departing chief executive. They are sobering thoughts to be left in the minds of his countrymen. They have implications as serious as those set in motion by George Washington when he warned his countrymen against entangling alliances.

Mr. Eisenhower has seen the evolution of a peacetime armament industry. He has seen the evolution of the "science kick" in education. He is alert to the evidence that his countrymen may be drifting into an attitude that will justify anything if it claims to be military and scientific and reject everything else.

"It is the task of statesmanship to mold, to balance and to integrate these and other forces, new and old, within the principles of our democratic system—ever aiming toward the supreme goals of our free society," declares Mr. Eisenhower, summing up what he has learned.

WHEN EVERYTHING he has said as President of the United States is evaluated by historians, this thought may well be Mr. Eisenhower's greatest personal contribution to the knowledge of his day.

The United States is flirting with a degree of military materialism and scientific monomania that could make it more Marxist than the Soviet Union, itself.

If it does not heed Dwight Eisenhower's warning, it could perish by the sword it has been forced to pick up in its defense.

An Assistant Out Of Range

The new President is unlikely to find merit in the retiring President's idea for an assistant president of Cabinet rank.

For the time being, Mr. Kennedy's presidential assistant is destined to be his brother Robert, who will be in the Cabinet as attorney general of the United States.

Later on, if he needs another assistant, in addition to all the men who have been with him for the last few years and have been given credit for the efficiency of his winning presidential campaign, he can be stuck into the organization of the federal government wherever place can be found.

Franklin Roosevelt had assistants stuck all over Washington, some of them in such obscure jobs no one could say what they were supposed to do, other than work for Mr. Roosevelt when he needed them.

Mr. Eisenhower's assistant, Sherman Adams, worked in the White House with the title of assistant, though not with Cabinet rank. And it was Mr. Adams as much as anyone who let the air out of the theory that an assistant president has become a government necessity.

He was a paragon of efficiency. He had forgotten more about politics and the intricacies of government than Mr. Eisenhower was likely to learn; that was why he was on the job. He was an expert in his field. Mr. Eisenhower relied on him heavily.

That made it important for the opposition party to shoot him down, to prove to him and his party that its sharpshooters had the range of the White House. The job they did on Mr. Adams was a classic. Never has there been slicker, more lethal exploitation of the congressional inquiry as a weapon in the partisan wars.

The destruction of Mr. Adams hurt Mr. Eisenhower. It was intended to hurt him.

That's why Mr. Kennedy will be unlikely to see merit in a presidential assistant of Cabinet rank. The holder of the job would be the most visible and the most shot-at sitting duck in politics. A presidential assistant should keep out of range—where Robert Kennedy will be, he hopes.

That Is How It Works, Junior

It crosses the minds of newspapermen every so often that many people who wonder why television does things one way and newspapers another do not know how the two media differ, aside from technical difference.

Television is a medium licensed to operate by authority of Congress and regulated by the rules of the Federal Communications Commission. A television station, like a radio station, operates in fear of not having its license renewed if it incurs the disfavor of the FCC.

This might happen if it incurred the disfavor of other people in government who would get in touch with enough FCC commissioners to twist the arm of the licensee. It is to the credit of the FCC and the government as a whole that it doesn't happen, but it could happen.

This is the great difference between a television station and the press. The press cannot be touched by any act of Congress; it says so in the first article of the Bill of Rights. It cannot be licensed, therefore it cannot be intimidated by government. And here is a case in point:

The director of the U.S. Bureau of Prisons threatened the American Broadcasting Co. to pose renewal of its stations' licenses if they broadcast a show depicting a prison guard in cahoots with the late Al Capone. It is to ABC's credit that it broadcast the show anyway, albeit with an apology to the Bureau of Prisons, but it now remains to be seen whether the threat to oppose license renewals will be carried out.

In the meantime, threats were made. Executives had to swallow hard and decide to go through with it, knowing what the consequences could be if they made the Washington bureaucrats mad enough. And that, junior, is how it works. The threat of reprisal is almost as bad as the real thing. To avoid it, television leans over backward and its advertisers actually do back-somersaults.

Must Be Better Place For Showdown

Harbor Strike Could Clog East

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK

Some of the men who actually pour oil on the troubled waters of New York harbor drank an extra toast this last New Year's Eve to something millions strive for—a job guaranteed for life.

These men are oilers aboard railroad tugs in a skyscraper-bound bay through which passes more than $16 million worth of global cargo. Though these men "go to sea," they work for two railroads—the Erie-Lackawanna and the Long Island.

It was never the intention of these lines to give a lifetime guarantee. Rather, back in June 1959, the roads decided to wipe out every one of these jobs—and gave notice. There was no need for oilers aboard diesel engine tugs, said the railroad executives.

Thus began the story which also will be the story behind a thousand strikes to come.

It is woven into the uneasiness and the toughness of labor's "new approach"—yet it is as ancient as Englishmen of old heaving rocks at new weaving spindles. It is part of labor's answer to "automation" and the wizardry of new technical equipment.

THESE "SEAGOING" oilers, though they work for railroads, are members of teamsters Local 518—"the Marine Employees Union, Hoboken (New York Harbor), N.J." When the companies gave notice, the Teamsters struck.

The Eastern railroad industry went into the federal courts as far as the high bench. The Supreme Court sent the case back to a lower district bench. At this point the railroads and the local decided to negotiate.

After almost a year and a half they agreed that all oilers who had been on the job would have lifetime job security. They would never be fired or laid off.

Those who had less than 20 years seniority would be dismissed. They would get heavy severance pay. But they would lose their jobs after Jan. 1, 1961, was the agreement.

Under the agreement signed in December, the lines could end the jobs only if the oilers died, resigned or retired. They have their job security.

Drunk Driving Hearing Is Set

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Monday at 9 a. m. for Hal Hamblett, 32, of 520 1st Ave., who pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated filed as the aftermath of a collision with a parked auto early this morning on Harvey Ave., Klondyke.

Police said Hamblett's eastbound 1955 auto struck the rear of a parked 1954 sedan owned by Carter Tucker, 2260 Harvey Ave., causing heavy damage to the right front of Hamblett's car and the left rear and trunk of the parked vehicle.

Hamblett told police he was forced out of the traffic lane by an oncoming vehicle. He requested a continuance to obtain counsel when arraigned this morning. Judge Chertoff set his bond at $500.

Patrolman Jack Strobel, who filed the charge, reported Hamblett admitted consuming two beers before the crash, one in Wellsville and one at an East End club. Witnesses told police there were no other autos on the street at the time of the crash, he reported.

Meanwhile, Lawrence C. Smith, 1107 Lisbon St., told police a wall in front of his property was damaged about 2:45 this morning when struck by a hit-and-run vehicle. Police said the vehicle went off the wrong side of the street to strike the wall.

Council To Act On Sewer Bids

NEW WATERFORD — Awarding of contracts for a new sewage disposal plant and sewer line will be considered at a meeting of Council next Thursday.

The Hexco Construction Co. of Girard submitted the apparent low bid of $61,000 for the plant and water line to the facility, while the Herman Brothers Co. of Youngstown offered a low bid of $170,000 for the sewer line project.

The low bids were well below the original estimated cost of $273,000. E. R. Bretz, clerk, said. Engineers are now studying the bids in preparation for making a report to Council. A total of 16 bids were filed.

The proposed plant is to be located south of the village, east of Route 46.

The village last year approved a $35,000 bond issue for the project and has received a federal grant of $30,000 along with an FHA revenue loan for $160,000 to finance the project.

County Firemen To Seek Program Of Mutual Help

He spent a year of premedical training at the University of Notre Dame before serving (1944-46) as a Navy medical corpsman attached to the Marines.

Upon leaving service, he studied at the Sorbonne in Paris for a year. A native of St. Louis, in 1953 he was graduated from the St. Louis University School of Medicine.

Dooley rejoined the Navy as a lieutenant (j.g.) and took his internship first at the Naval Hospital, Camp Pendleton, Calif., and then aboard the attack transport USS Montague.

In 1954, at the end of the war in Indochina, his ship aided in evacuation of refugees from Communist North Viet Nam.

Seeing—and feeling—the plight of the hundreds of disease-wracked inhabitants of the area made up Dooley's mind.

He had no money. But he had a fighting heart, boundless energy and a burning zeal.

After leaving the Navy in 1956 Dooley wrote a best-selling book, "Deliver Us From Evil!" He used the book's proceeds, and supplies donated by pharmaceutical firms, to return to Laos with three former Navy buddies and set up a small medical unit at Nam Tha. He brought in his medical supplies by train, plane, oxcart and dugout canoe.

Guest speakers will be Wayne C. Jenkins of Columbus, chief of the Fire Prevention Bureau of Ohio, and Joseph Rutter, superintendent of the Classification Department of the Ohio Inspection Bureau.

One of the aims of the association is to establish a closer working relationship between the volunteer and municipal departments in the county.

Chief Ronald H. Garlick of Berea, president of the Ohio Firemen's Association, and Lt. Lutsch Bailey of Berea were guest speakers last night.

Garlick spoke on the relationship between state and local organizations and outlined what the state group can do for the local organizations and departments.

Bailey explained the new insurance plan available through the state group to cover volunteer firemen on accidents suffered in the line of duty.

County Courts Now In Black

LISBON — Columbiana County's three lower courts operated out of the red in 1960 for the first time since they were inaugurated in 1958, according to Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts.

The county courts turned over to the county treasurer fines and costs totaling $40,624.69 and paid the sheriff's department $1,012.94, which also goes to the treasurer, making a total of $41,637.63.

The total cost of operation was $39,943.70, giving them a $1,693.93 profit for last year.

A breakdown in the costs shows $10,580.30, judges' salaries; $20,380.86, clerks' salaries; $3,496.32, supplies; $370.30, equipment, and $5,105.92 for miscellaneous expenses, heat, light and phone.

A total of $18,993.42 was paid to the state treasurer representing 45 per cent of the State Highway Patrol fines.

There were 2,986 criminal cases filed in 1960, along with 1,009 civil.

Constables were paid $2,077.95 for their costs and police $99.95, along with $294 in other fines and fees collected.

This was the first full year that the courts handled all patrol cases in arrests made outside of municipalities.

Office hours at the three courts are Monday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Thursday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at East Palestine; Monday, 2 to 8 p.m. and Wednesday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Salem, and Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, 12 to 5 p.m. and Saturday, 8 a.m. to noon, at Lisbon. The judges may be in court other times but these are the hours they will handle criminal cases, they said.

$30,156,000 Is County 'Share' Of U.S. Budget

Operation of the federal government in 1961-62 under the proposed Eisenhower budget will cost residents of Columbiana County an estimated $30,156,000, the Ohio Chamber of Commerce reported.

The county, which has a population of 107,004, would pay $356 per person or $1,426 per family under the proposed budget. Local taxes paid in 1959 amounted to $5,912,570, leaving the federal tax burden almost 6.5 times the cost of local taxes, the report said.

Lease Plan, If City Gets New Post Office

Postal Department officials at Washington said today East Liverpool is only one of many cities under consideration for a new post office.

The comment came in connection with the fact President Eisenhower's budget did not contain any appropriation for a federal building here.

But when the city gets one — if ever — is something that won't be known, a Post Office spokesman said, until an announcement is made that a site for the building has been picked.

The reason for all the secrecy is that, once it becomes known that a new building is going to go up, some local interests scramble to buy property and push up the price.

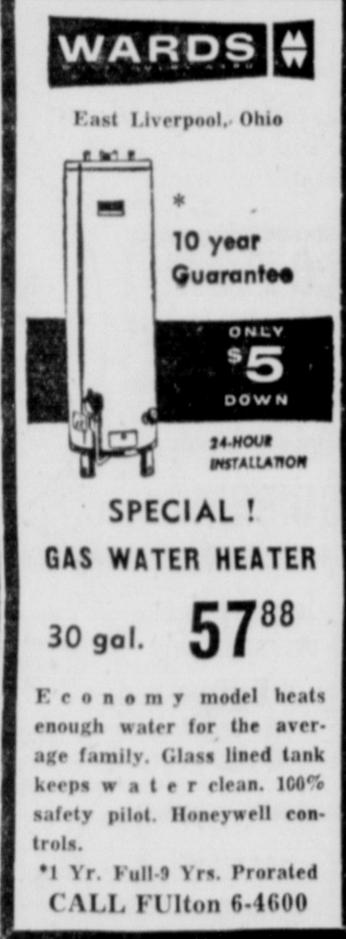

"After all," the spokesman said, "there are only so many places in a city like East Liverpool where you could build a post office building."

If and when a building is put up in East Liverpool, he said, it will be erected by a private contractor and leased to the government.

The only government money involved would be in obtaining the necessary equipment for the building and, in some cases, buying the lot.

"If the lot is too high, we won't go into a city, either," the spokesman said.

An introvert is preoccupied with his own mental processes and attitudes and with the way he is regarded by others while an extrovert is one who is interested in things and people outside of himself.

40 At Installation Of City Democrats

Forty attended the installation of officers held Tuesday night by the East Liverpool Democratic Club in the Washington Building.

Don Gosney of Columbiana, county chairman, installed the officers headed by Frank Bennett of W. 8th St., president.

The executive committee named includes Bennett, chairman, James Flasco, Lee Copenhaver, Don Hancock and Joe Winters.

Plans were made for the club to aid the city and county administration whenever possible. James Mullin, United Steelworkers Union staff representative, was guest speaker.

He discussed the Democratic organization and the proposed wage tax. He said the issue is strictly up to the members of City Council and the mayor. He said he will defend them on any move made.

The next meeting is Jan. 31.

PTA In Glenmoor To Hold Carnival

The Glenmoor Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday evening and discussed plans for its first carnival. It was set tentatively for Feb. 25.

The Rev. Ray Banks, pastor of the LaCroix Church of the Nazarene, spoke on "Parents Responsibilities" after devotions.

Business was conducted by Jay

Wynn, president, and Mrs. Peter Muscari gave a report on the recent PTA Federation meeting.

A talk on "Cubbing and Scouting" was given by Robert Gray, Cherokee District Scout executive. Ed House, program chairman, introduced him.

Miss Dorothy Sloan's second grade won the attendance banner.

Refreshments were served by the third grade homeroom mothers.

The next meeting is Feb. 21.

Contracts Let For Midland Water Needs

The Midland Municipal Authority awarded contracts totaling $15,916 for the year's supply of chemicals at the annual dinner meeting Monday Wednesday evening at the Esquire Bar.

Authority members approved the low bids on a motion by Rudolph Presutti, purchasing committee chairman. They were recommended at the last meeting by Granville Kester of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., consulting engineers.

Opalco Laboratories of McKeesport was awarded contracts for 20,000 pounds of liquid chlorine at $12.75 per 100 pounds, 50 tons of alum at $2.45 per 100, 25 tons of activated carbon at $160.57 per ton and a ton of sodium chloride at 61 1/4 cents per pound.

The Warner Co. of Pittsburgh will supply 100 tons of hydrated lime at $29.95 per ton and Western Pennsylvania Chemical Co. of Elizabeth, Pa., 6 tons of potassium permanganate at $29.85 per 100.

A tentative budget was presented by Kester. Dr. Zanvel Sigal, president, asked members to study it. A special meeting will be called to adopt it and hear any suggestions of members.

On motion of Leslie B. Roach, members approved a recommendation by Presutti, labor committee chairman, that only paid-up insurance be offered water department employees in negotiations for a new contract. The old contract expired Oct. 1.

Presutti reported that he met with the representative of the employees' union last week. He said the representative has asked for two additional paid holidays and better vacation rates.

Presutti said the paidup insurance would cost the authority about $1,700 a year. He pointed out there has been a decrease in water sold and some manpower may have to be curtailed. He said he has gone over figures with the department manager and the insurance is the best that can be offered.

The union representative will contact Presutti Friday to learn the authority's offer.

Burgess Eli Corak attended Bills totaling $23,825.42 were ordered paid. Next meeting is Feb. 15.

Bank Embezzler Used Funds To Buy Stock In New Firm

SHELDON, Iowa (AP) — Part of the assets held by Burnice Ivera, town's prominent citizen and philanthropist, has remained silent. Held in jail at Sioux City, the $2-million bank embezzlement here, went into the purchase of 130,000 shares of Northern Biochemical Corp. of Sheldon.

This fledgling industry, organized about a year ago to deal in the manufacture and sale of special animal feeds, started with $8,000 but is now capitalized at $500,000.

Mrs. Geiger, assistant cashier of the Sheldon National Bank until it collapsed Tuesday, had held a controlling interest in the chemical firm.

The extent of her holdings in the company was the first concrete figure turned up during an investigation of what she did with the $2,126,859 defalcation that resulted in the closing of the bank.

Records indicate that in the early months of the corporation, outstanding shares totaled only about 200,000 and Mrs. Geiger held 65 per cent. The firm also has two subsidiaries.

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president and economic consultant for Northern Biochemical, said Mrs. Geiger bought about one-third of the corporation's capital stock of 350,000 shares.

The congregation voted an increase in the salary of the minister, the Rev. George H. Bohlender.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Twelve years of marriage ended tonight. The other woman won.

I'm not feeling sorry for myself or making excuses. Apparently I didn't have what it takes to keep my husband home nights. For two years I pretended not to see what was going on right under my nose.

I've failed as a wife but I don't want to fail as a mother. Please tell me how I explain to a 10-year-old boy and a 7-year-old girl that their Daddy has taken his clothes and moved out of the house?

These last two years the children haven't seen much of their Dad evenings or weekends. He took his summer vacation alone. I always told them he had to work hard for us. They believed me. Now what do I say?—MRS. W.

Dear Mrs. W.: It's your husband's responsibility to tell the children why he moved out of the house. He left—you didn't.

Ask him if he can spare an hour next Sunday afternoon to explain to his children why he is living elsewhere. If he doesn't like the idea you have no alternative but to tell them in your own way (without bitterness).

Dear Eyesore: Keep the picture up for a few months—then call in the plasterers. Replace the portrait with one of your own choice and hang the gift in a less conspicuous place for another few months—before retiring it to the attic.

Woman's Prerogative

Dear Ann: My wife's sister thinks she can paint. She did an oil painting of my wife. If you ask me it's an insult, not a portrait.

My wife says it's impressionistic but I don't think this is any excuse. The features are exaggerated and out of proportion and it's downright grotesque. To make matters worse my sister-in-law had it framed and surprised us by hanging it on our living room wall—right over the fireplace. She put a big hole in the wall so we can't remove the picture unless we call the plasterers in.

I say the telephones belong to the phone company and she has no right to deface them. Can they prosecute her for destroying their property?—H. E.

Dear H. E.: Your wife has not destroyed the telephones. She simply removed the number plate.

I checked with Illinois Bell and was told that the company has no objections to this practice. Some people do not wish their phone number known so they remove it from sight.

Dear Eyesore: Keep the picture up for a few months—then call in the plasterers. Replace the portrait with one of your own choice and hang the gift in a less conspicuous place for

Rescued Swan's Mate May Still Be In River

The mate of the Babbs Island swan rescued Saturday may still be around the Ohio River, looking for its long-missing spouse.

Five Pennsylvania Railroad workers said they saw a swan swimming near Georgetown Island in the vicinity of Dam 7 at Midland Tuesday and Montgomery Island Dam employees at Ohio View said Crucible Steel Co. workers also reported seeing a swan in the area.

Columbiana County Game Protector R. L. Lide, who took custody of the big swan found Saturday near the Newell Bridge by Mike Metz of W. 4th St., said it is of the European mute type and that if separated from a mate they usually die within a year or so from grief.

The bird found Saturday had been shot under the right wing. It was taken to the Highlandtown Lake Preserve barn to recover, if possible. Lide said "people should leave them alone"—they are protected by state and federal law. "They should not be molested," he warned.

Mrs. William Moore was named chairman of a sale of sweat shirts and jackets with school emblems to raise funds.

About 50 attended the meeting at which William Deel, Hancock County guidance director, discussed school testing, guidance work and the change of the school system from an 8-4-year plan to a 6-3-3-year plan.

The attendance banner was won by the Central School first grade and the elementary school fifth grade. The Rev. Donald Vogel of the First United Presbyterian Church gave the invocation.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Wilbur Staley and committee. A Founder's Day program will be held Feb. 21.

No Place Like Home? Ask EL Cagers; Central Invades M-A Friday Night

There's no place like home! And nobody knows it better than the East Liverpool Potters, who return to Memorial Auditorium Friday night for a meeting with Steubenville Central.

While East Liverpool's six-game winning streak went by the wayside, with an 80-60 loss at Ashland, the Potters still have a consecutive game winning streak to speak of.

East Liverpool has won all five games played at the Potter court this season and hopes to continue the string Friday night.

While the Blue and White shows a 6-2 record, Steubenville Central comes to town with five victories in nine games.

The two schools have played one mutual opponent — Toronto, Ontario defeated Central in an overtime battle Tuesday night, 66-63 while East Liverpool defeated Toronto, 64-47, a week ago.

Until Tuesday, Steubenville had won three straight, with victories over Bellaire St. John's, Wellsville and Jefferson Union. The other two victories posted by the Crusaders were over Weirton Madonna and Follansbee St. Anthony.

Besides the loss to Toronto, Central has been knocked off by Wheeling Linsly, Bellaire St. John's (in the first meeting) and Steubenville Big Red.

Coach Francis Sebring is pretty well set on a starting lineup. It will include the team's top scorer, Tom Eroshevich. The 5-foot-10 senior has tossed in 162 points in nine games.

His best night came against St.

Anthony of Follansbee when he dropped in 29.

Other starters for the invading Crusaders will be John Kenny, tallest man on the first unit at 6-foot-2; Ross Monaco 6-foot; Sam Forzaglio 5-foot-10, and John Polshaw at 6-foot.

Two other Central cagers who are expected to see early duty are Dave Halpate, a 6-foot-2 senior, and Joe Drosak, 5-foot-11 junior.

The Potters will take a night off on Saturday and won't return to action until Jan. 27 at New Philadelphia.

Carolina Five Still Bitter; Foes Suffer

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer
North Carolina's Tar Heels, once a good basketball team going somewhere, suddenly have become a great one going nowhere since the NCAA lowered its probationary boom nine days ago.

In four games since the penalty for recruiting violations was imposed in Pittsburgh, Jan. 10, the Tar Heels have whipped four straight Atlantic Coast Conference foes, boosted their winning streak to ten, their national ranking to sixth, and their season record to a tidy 12-2.

Wednesday night's game was the most impressive of all—a 97-66 rout of arch-rival N.C. State at Raleigh.

With All-America candidates York Larese and Doug Moe each scoring 27 points, the Tar Heels hit 66.7 per cent from the field in the second half, 53.5 for the game, and rolled to a 36 point lead at one stage.

Surging Xavier of Ohio (10-3) handed Louisville its second straight loss after 13 season-opening victories, 84-77; West Virginia (11-3) beat Pitt for the 12th time in their last 13 meetings, 73-68, and one and two point decisions were plentiful in other games on the Wednesday night program.

Pitt (6-7) held West Virginia sophomore Rod Thorn to eight points but veteran Lee Patrone took charge for the Mountaineers, controlling the play and scoring 19.

Maryland took a 63-62 thriller from Navy; Army edged Williams 60-58; Hank Whitney's two free throws and another by John Piacsek gave Iowa State a 71-70 decision over Drake; Penn scored a 63-62 upset triumph over Villanova; and Wyoming, winning its fourth straight after a woeful start, nipped Air Force 61-60 in overtime.

Niagara (7-2) handed Syracuse (1-9) its eighth straight defeat, 97-77, and Colgate broke a 7-game losing streak, 67-57 over Columbia.

30-Point Average Boasted By Trio In Major Colleges

By The Associated Press

Only four-tenths of a point separate Frank Burgess of Gonzaga, Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure and Tom Chilton of East Tennessee State in the battle for the national scoring title among major college basketball players.

Statistics from the National Collegiate Service Bureau today show Burgess the half-season leader with a 30.67 average, Stith second with 30.64 and Chilton on their heels with 30.3.

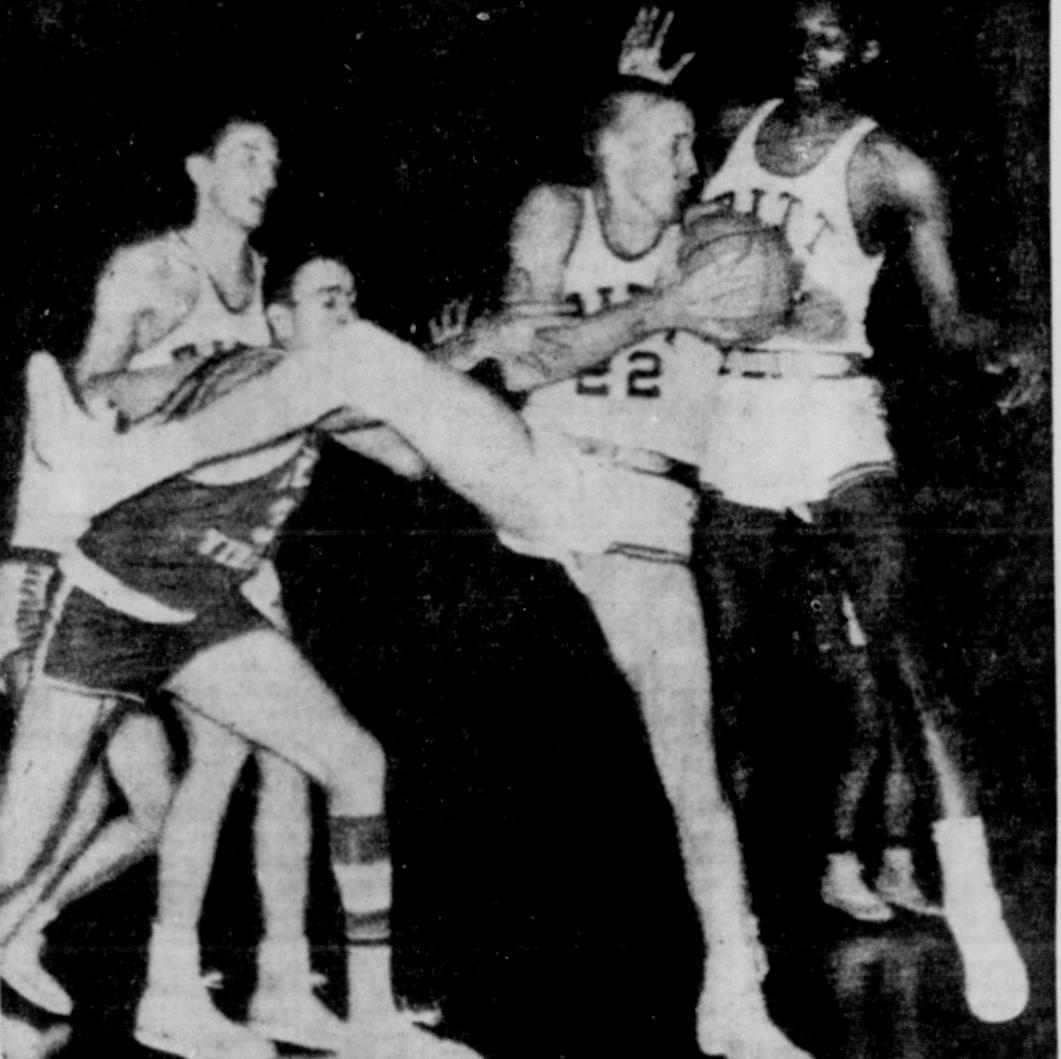

Burgess, in 15 games through Jan. 17, scored 460 points. Stith, runnerup last year to scoring champ Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, has hit for 429 in 14 starts. Chilton has accumulated 363 in 12 games.

Jerry Lucas of Ohio State remains the field goal percentage leader with .639 per cent to .638 for Seton Hall's Hank Gunter. Chilton moved past the Ohio State All-America and took the rebound lead with a .202 recovery percentage to .200 for Lucas. Al Butler of Niagara leads the free throw shooters with .919 percentage on 34 out of 37 attempts.

8th Straight For Beavers

Strong Bridgeport Club Bows To Beaver Matmen

Bridgeport, a power in Ohio's wrestling circles for several years and, considered to be Beaver Local's strongest for this season, fell before the Beavers, 34-12, Wednesday night at Williamsport.

The strong Beaver Local squad, which has whipped everyone in sight, picked up its eighth straight victory of the season.

The victory came as Coach Jack O'Rourke's team won eight of its 11 matches. Bridgeport took two bouts while one ended in a draw.

OSU Fans Hope Luke's Ready For Friday Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State basketball fans hope to see the Bucks' All-American Jerry Lucas up and running again Friday.

Big Luke, who still is nursing a sore knee which he sprained Jan. 7, has been sitting out practices since he sprained his right ankle in a workout Tuesday.

During a fast break, Lucas stepped on the foot of a freshman defender and crashed to the floor. The junior from Middleburg said shortly after the incident: "I don't think it's serious. It felt like it at first, but it's not so bad now."

Trainer Ernie Biggs also said the sprain was minor. He added that Lucas ought to be able to resume practice about Friday.

The top-ranked Buckeyes meet Minnesota Saturday in St. John Arena.

Right before Chester went down to its second defeat in six games, American Billiards routed the East End Merchants, 73-43. Chester and the Billiard five are now tied for the lead with identical 4-2 records.

In another contest, George Bright's, an upstart of late, took a 62-44 tilt from Wellsville and clinched a tie for second place.

Freed's, after posting a 9-7 edge at the first period, turned in a good second quarter to grab a 28-14 margin at halftime. George Hale led Freed's with 15 while Frank Chan and Bevo Francis chipped in with 11 each. Phil Chan and Dave Hurd dropped in 13 each for the losers.

A 25-point performance from Paul "Yeager" James led the first place American Billiards team to its fourth victory, but veteran Bill Thornberry also played an important hand in the contest with 22 markers.

Bill Hulme fired in 12 points for East End.

One of the outstanding scoring feats of the City League season was turned in by young Wayne Cline who poured 27 points through the hoops in pacing George Bright's attack over Wellsville.

Ken Brophy topped the losers with 17.

Cardinal Red Hat Is Conferred On U.S. Archbishop

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today conferred the cardinal's red hat on Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter of St. Louis, Mo., and three other new princes of the Roman Catholic Church.

Cardinal Ritter was the first to get his hat. As he knelt before the papal throne and two attendants held the broad-brimmed hat or galero over his head, Pope John intoned:

"For the praise of almighty God and the honor of the holy apostolic see, receive the red hat, the special badge of a cardinal's rank. By this you are to understand that you must show your self fearless, even to the shedding of blood, in making our holy faith respected, in security peace of Christian people, and by promoting the welfare of the Roman Catholic Church."

'Briefing' Set On Road Work

A briefing session is being arranged for Wednesday at City Hall to familiarize city and school officials with contractors' plans for construction of the West End-California Hollow Freeway.

The meeting is being arranged principally to acquaint local agencies with the general order of construction of various phases of the project and how they will be affected, City Engineer George S. Bloomgren said.

The city will present a request that the contractor construct a new access ramp between W. 9th St. and Lisbon St. before other access to W. 9th St. is closed, Bloomgren said. If other access is closed first, fire trucks and ambulances might have difficulty rounding the sharp turn at W. 9th and Lisbon Sts., which would be the only remaining way to get on and off the street, he explained.

In addition to city representatives, the meeting will bring together School Supt. Ralph W. Betts, William McKenna, head of the State Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia, representatives of the city water department and spokesmen for the two contractors, Chapin & Chapin of Norwalk and Baker & Hickey of Columbus.

Chapin & Chapin started preliminary work Wednesday, cutting trees and brush along the right-of-way in West End.

McKenna is to set the time of the meeting, Bloomgren said, after all the agencies and officials involved agreed upon a mutually satisfactory date.

Milk Truck, Auto Collide

A collision between a milk truck and an auto on a township road northwest of Salineville was being investigated late this morning by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

The patrol reported two mishaps Wednesday — one at the intersection of Routes 30 and 170 in California Hollow and the other at the intersection of Routes 554 and 517 just west of East Fairfield.

Minor damage occurred in the collision on Route 30 between a 1960 coach driven by John A. O'Rourke, 29, of Rogers R. D. and a 1955 coach operated by Eugene Pugh, 22, of St. Clair Ave. Ext.

Officers said Pugh had stopped on Route 170 then started a left turn onto Route 30 when O'Rourke, headed south on Route 30, made a turn onto the other road. Pugh's car struck the other.

A 1949 sedan driven by Dorothy Vale, 37, of New Waterford R. D. was heavily damaged when struck by a station wagon driven by Tony Ferlet, 39, of Youngstown, who failed to halt after the crash.

The patrol said Ferlet made an improper turn, went left of center and struck the oncoming sedan. He was later charged with unsafe operation and failure to stop after an accident.

Relocated City Sewer To Get Last Inspection

Representatives of the U. S. Public Health Service and the Ohio Health Department came to East Liverpool today for a final inspection of the relocated section of Carpenters Run sanitary sewer, a prelude to payment of the last installment of about $35,000 in a federal grant to aid in the project.

The officials conferred this morning at City Hall with Engineer George S. Bloomgren before starting their inspection.

The federal grant was to be paid in installments as the work progressed. The sewer has been relocated from the sewage treatment plant to a point opposite the old stone quarry in California Hollow. Another segment will be relocated in connection with construction of the California Hollow-West End Freeway.

Training Session Held By Township Firemen

A three-hour training session was held at the meeting of the Liverpool Township East volunteer fire department Wednesday night at the Dixonville station.

William Smit and Keith Stevens were in charge of training in use of the fire truck and volume water pump while Robert Parker and David Bahen were the instructors in the use of the resuscitator, inhalator and gas mask.

Nineteen attended the session which followed a brief business with Ed Burns, president, in charge.

Refreshments were served by Jack Conley and Paul Hauldren. A business meeting will be held Feb. 1.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Enough Music, Not Enough 'Years'

There ought to be a law against television shows that fail to live up to their titles! Or stated objectives! To defeat audience expectation is to invite audience dissatisfaction, as every producer should know. But in "The Gershwin Years" (CBS), what was billed as "a 90-minute musical variety program of life in the 1920s and 1930s, against a background of George Gershwin's music" turned out to be 90 minutes of George Gershwin's music, against a background of life in the 1920s and 1930s.

A scant representation of the flamboyant Gershwin era it was, too, projected mainly through still photographs and the spoken reminiscences of host Richard Rodgers.

THE BULK of the program was in the groove of, "And then he wrote . . ."

While there can be no argument with what George Gershwin wrote, an unrelieved 90-minutes of his bawling themes on TV is akin to getting too much of a good thing. There was a crying need for levity, contrast, balance, occasional distraction from the copious flow of musical interpretations.

The results indubitably would have been better if the Leland Hayward production had lived up to its original premise and placed emphasis on the era that inspired George Gershwin to create the tantalizing rhythms that captured the nervous beat of our cities and the brittle melodies that reflected the moods of our people—energetic and jaunty, but sometimes desperately blue.

Hancock Events Set For Benefit Of Polio Fund

NEW CUMBERLAND — Plans have been completed for a series of activities to raise funds for the March of Dimes, Squire John D. Herron chairman, reported today.

The first will be a round and polka dance Friday night in the B. & J. Tavern on S. Chester St.

A white elephant auction sale will also be held with all proceeds going toward the polio fund. Joe Taszy's band will furnish music.

A second dance will be held Saturday, Jan. 28 in the Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsored by the auxiliary of Adam Poe Post. Dan McConnell's band will furnish music for the "cabaret" style dance.

The New Cumberland Lions Club will hold its Father's March on Polio Tuesday. Residents have been asked to switch on their porch lights during the solicitation.

Pughton will be canvassed by the 4-H Club under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Arehart. Club members will hold a door-to-door canvass.

About 12 per cent of all male college students in the United States take military training as part of their curricula.

ANOTHER of the show's major assets was Maurice Chevalier, who recounted a few Gershwin memories and offered perfectly charming renditions of "I Was So Young" and "Oh, Lady Be Good!" Ethel Merman belted out a med-

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean tarnished silverware?

A. Place boiling water in a large aluminum pan and add a tablespoonful of baking soda to each quart of water. Place the silver in this and let stand for about 15 minutes. Then rinse with hot water and dry. Do not, however, use this method with "antiqued" silverware.

Q. How can I prepare a good onion soup?

A. Chop two onions; place two spoonfuls of butter in a pan and melt; put the onions in and fry until well done; pour a quart of boiling water into the pan and season. To improve the flavor, add sliced bread and finely chopped Swiss cheese.

Q. How can I clean windows during cold weather without using water?

A. There are any number of manufactured solutions on the market for window cleaning. You can also use a cloth dampened in wood alcohol, then polishing with a clean, dry cloth.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW, EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO

Man Who Killed Student, Wounded Professor Hunted

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — An intensive hunt was pressed today for a stocky gunman with bushy hair who killed a brilliant University of California graduate student and wounded an English professor late Wednesday.

Fatally wounded by a sawed-off shotgun blast in the back was Steven Mann Thomas, 29, member of a pioneer ranching family at Ukiah, Calif.

He was a teaching assistant to Prof. Thomas F. Parkinson, 40, who was shot in the face as he arose from his desk in his quiet office on the second floor of Dwinelle Hall.

Parkinson and Thomas had been in conference after classes. The younger man's back was to the open door when the hatless gunman entered and, without warning, fired twice with the double-barreled weapon.

Birdshot from the second blast didn't hit Parkinson full in the face. But it ripped away part of his jaw and blasted out a window behind him. The student writhed on the floor with a gaping hole in his back. Two empty 12 gauge shotgun shells were ejected onto the floor.

Two professors in a nearby office, Brendan O'Hehir and Ralph W. Radar, rushed into the corridor. The slayer ran toward them brandishing the shotgun.

"Outta the way," he said grimly, "or I'll kill you."

Then he darted past them, down the stairs and fled out the main east entrance. Another English professor, G. A. Gardner D. Stout, caught a glimpse of the gunman as he ran past a corridor poster advertising a French Quaker film entitled: "We Are All Murderers."

"I never saw the man before," Stout told police.

Relatives of the victims were at a loss for any possible motive for the shootings.

By HAL BOYLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—He looked familiar across the crowded ballroom, but for a moment I couldn't place him.

Then it came back to me. Why, of course. How could I ever forget? I had known his son well in high school, and had visited in his house several times then.

"It's a real pleasure to see you again, sir," I said, stepping up and wringing him by the hand. "You probably don't remember me, but I used to know your son Joe real well—years and years ago."

The man stared at me, then said: "You really are lost. I am Joe. I wondered when you were going to say hello."

Well, that's the way it is. They say you can't come home again. This isn't true. You can come home again.

But if you meet high school classmates after a quarter of a century or more you find something has happened to them.

You feel you are still the razzle-dazzle kid who used to drive the study hall teacher crazy. Nothing has changed you. But your classmates are different.

The girls look like their mothers, the boys like their fathers. What has time done to them? It is very hard to understand.

It is now 24 years this very month that I left this lovely hometown of mine—the heart of America—to storm New York City with empty pockets and a head full of dreams.

Through the years I have come back home as often as I could, as most sons of the Midwest do, to drink again from the renewing common sense fountain that flows deepest in the center of our continent.

On each visit I could see signs of vital change in terms of expansion and new building, but also signs of decay in things I would like to remain fixed forever as I had known them in my childhood.

The city was getting younger and fresher and taller, but the people and houses I had known were getting older and more tired.

On this trip, for example, Punky, the family dog, who is 9 years old, didn't bark when my cab rolled up to the house. She stood there waiting, like a cinnamon-colored duchess—she's mostly Chinese chow—until I patted her on the head. Then she smiled gravely and moved heavily after me to the front door.

"Poor Punky," said my mother later. "She has a bad cyst on her leg. We've given her X rays, and she's had two operations and the doctor says a third won't do any good.

"It may be necessary later to put her to sleep, and I just can't think about it. None of us can. She has been such a good dog."

When you come home again, news like that depresses you. You feel the weight of mortality pressing on others. But somehow you feel impervious to change yourself. You are still as young as the day you left town. Nothing has happened to you.

The other night I went to a social occasion and overheard a couple talking.

Formula Feeding Not Answer To Fat Problem

The bulging facts on overweight reveal that close to 50 million Americans are toting a sizable amount of excess pounds—pounds that threaten to cut short birthdays.

What about the individuals who are carrying 20, 40, or 100 excess pounds? Can the formula diet help them to reduce? It might help them to make a start.

But face it, if you have a prodigious number of pounds to take off, your food habits are to blame and these must be changed.

NO FORMULA can change your food preferences. The only solution is for you to get the slimming habit. To control weight, you need nutrition and calories know-how.

Beware the ultra-quick loss of pounds followed by a fast return to fattening fare. Don't fall into the trap of on-again, off-again reducing—it is potentially dangerous.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Hungry Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Crippled Girl, 12, Found Drowned In Tub

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 12-year-old girl, crippled by arthritis, was found dead in the bathtub at her home here Wednesday night, apparently a drowning victim.

Carol Jane McAllister, who weighed less than 50 pounds, was found in four inches of water a half hour after her mother, Mrs. Kathleen McAllister, had placed her in the tub. Police said Mrs. McAllister told them the child liked to roll around in a tub or on the bed.
